Boyd Denies Making Beer Statement

Mayor Clashes With Crown Attorney In Local Police Court

DOCTOR FELT HE HAD NO RIGHT TO DEPRIVE MAN OF BEER IF NEEDED
APPEARS AS WITNESS

"Those are not my words at all. That's a garbled account," Dr. S. J. Boyd told The Era this morning when questioned with regard to the Holly case in which he gave evidence Tuesday at the local police court. The doctor, whose views on prohibition are well known in North York, had a rather sharp encounter with N. L. Mathews, K. C., acting crown attorney.

A Toronto paper quoted Dr. Boyd as stating that he prescribed a dozen quarts of beer per week for Arthur Holly. This annoyed the Newmarket mayor very much.

"I said Holly had a chronic intestinal complaint. He had always been accustomed to using a little beer. He did better with that small quantity at times when he required it."

"I want to state that I am not in the habit of prescribing beer, but if a man, in the eyes of the law has the right to have some, it's not up to the doctor to be a moral judge. It's up to him to comply with the law and let the man have a reasonable amount."

"I figured that since he had some within the law to have some on prescription, I had no right to deprive him of it since it worked very well in his complaint."

Mayor Gives Evidence

Two charges of obstructing police and having illegal possession of liquor on premises declared public laid against Arthur Holly, Holland Landing, were adjourned one week for judgment.

After the R. C. M. P. made a raid on the Holly house in June and found a quantity of liquor, Magistrate Woodliffe declared

GIVE IDEAS ON NON-PARKING MAIN STREET

CITIZENS FAR FROM UNANIMOUS IN DISCUSSING PARKING PROBLEMS

SUGGEST PARKING LOTS

"To park or not to park" is still the contentious question along the Main St. And there is no unanimity of opinion. Parking on one side, on both sides and no parking at all—each has its sponsor.

"Personally I don't give a hoot if they stop all the parking from here to North Bay," declared one prominent merchant. "But it won't work. They tried it in Orillia once and they were glad to be through with it. No matter which side you stop it on, the merchants on the other side will be annoyed."

"It's a very delicate situation," was Bert Morrison's comment. I do think if we had signs indicating parking areas for visitors it would work out all right. Otherwise I think we would lose a lot of business."

Sam Gibney thinks it should be abolished on one side. He thinks much of the difficulty would disappear if the merchants themselves would leave their cars behind the stores. "It doesn't affect me," he said, "but I can see how they lose business when visitors slow down, look for a parking space and then drive on."

Elman Campbell feels that if only legitimate customers were allowed to park on Main St. there would be no trouble. There is too much unnecessary parking of commercial vehicles when they could easily use the lane. "One gentleman who from his lofty eery is wont to gaze with a philosophic eye on the meanderings of mere mankind on the Main St. became really emphatic. 'The big trouble is the merchants themselves spoil Main St. Time after time they park.'"

In answer to the suggestion voiced in various sources that upstairs offices were responsible for much of the congestion, Miss Beatrice Lyons, charming young partner in a legal firm, was sweetly emphatic. "I don't think it's common at all. In fact, I can't say I've ever noticed it."

Then indicating with a sweep the vista spreading from the rear of her office window, "Just look out here. Do you see all those cars? Well, that is where most of the offices have their parking."

Chester Best, local druggist, agreed wholeheartedly with the suggestion that half-hour parking be enforced on the Main St. "Dozens of people have told me that they couldn't find a place to park and were forced to drive on. I feel that the merchants lose a considerable amount of business this way. And most of the trouble is caused by unnecessary parking on the part of the merchants themselves. We could easily use parking lots and insist on half-hour parking with the possible exception of Saturdays."

COUNCIL MEETS FRIDAY

The town council, which has not met since the middle of July, will resume its weekly deliberations on Friday evening. Since the council moved to its new quarters, which provide more accommodation for visitors, it is becoming common for citizens to drop in and watch the spending of their money.

A meeting of the Industrial Commission is also being held Friday evening to discuss another factory project for Newmarket. Some of the members who have the facts are already very enthusiastic about it.

WILL OPEN CLASSES FOR CHILDREN SEPT. 11

A class from 9 to 12 a.m. for small children will be opened on Sept. 11, by Miss Helen McNaul, Newmarket.

As well as French and the usual kindergarten subjects, the children's artistic abilities are encouraged. Outings for nature observation and other forms of recreation, to promote helpful development, form an important part of the morning's activities.

EDITOR (By A. O. H.)

Mr. D. O. Mungovan, Newmarket high school teacher and town councillor, has kindly taken over the editor's desk this week, while the regular editor is attending a weekly newspaper convention. Mr. Mungovan is responsible for both the editorial and news columns this week.

GLEN MURRAY CRASHES

Driving his truck down the Queensville hill at 3:30 Monday morning, Glen Murray of Cousins Dairy crashed into a tree, breaking his nose, and doing considerable damage to the front of the truck. A companion, Jack Brown, jumped in time to avoid injury. "I guess I dozed off" was Glen's comment.

Doctor Slams Radio Commission's Method Of Collecting Fees

NEWMARKET SURGEON REGISTERS ANNOYANCE WHEN HOUSE ENTERED

"JUST BOXED HIS EAR"

Annoyed by the alleged failure of the radio commission to curb local interference and angered at the commission's method of collecting license fees, Dr. J. C. R. Edwards, prominent local surgeon, took summary action last week. "He grabbed my arm, so I boxed his ear," declared the doctor.

"Did you hurt him?" "Well, it was a good slap," grinned Dr. Edwards, who has cooled off sufficiently to discuss the matter coherently.

"My point is, that I'm just an average citizen, protecting my rights. This man demanded to look at my radio. He produced some identification which I couldn't verify, but I permitted him to look at my set. Incidentally, I never got anything but C.F.R.B. on it. While he was doing this I phoned Constable Sloss. In the meantime this inspector had brought another man in. I had given no permission for this and started to put him

KEEN RACES AT CIVIC HOLIDAY SPORTS MEET

Good races, with many entries and close competition, failed to atone for the poor crowd that turned out at the fair grounds on Civic holiday. The fine weather proved too big a counter attraction and local people seemed to have moved out of town en masse. A fair crowd turned out for the big dance in the evening but even it was not a howling success financially.

Dave Pinkney of Stratford, who will be remembered by the hockey fans of the famous Newmarket-Stratford classes of some years ago, had Winn Aubrey entered in the 220 Yrd. He won the first heat but faded later. The entries and winners were:

GARAGE WORKER SUFFERS SEVERE BURNS ON ARMS

The business section of Jackson's Point was saved from fire by the fast work of the Sutton fire brigade, on Friday night as fire destroyed the Gilbey service station at the main intersection. Stores across the street had their windows cracked by the heat.

Alex. Miller was taken to the hospital in Sutton after being removed from the greasing pit of the garage where he was trapped by the flames which suddenly shot from the bottom of a car. He suffered severe burns on his arms.

The loss was estimated by Fire Chief Frank Culverwell at about $3,500. The origin of the blaze was undetermined.

TORIES ANSWER LOCAL RUMORS ABOUT ENTRY

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE IS NOT POPULAR IDEA AMONG TORIES

NESBITT DOUBTFUL

Rumors that there would be no Conservative candidate in North York in the forthcoming general election brought denials and assertions from prominent Conservatives.

"I think the Conservatives will back an independent candidate in the next election," declared J. E. Nesbitt, president of the Newmarket executive. Since the reconstructionists joined Manion there's a lot of Conservatives fed up. Most of us are in the wilderness. But we do want to see something done for the farmer and the worker."

J. O. Little didn't want to be quoted at first. But the ex-warden of the county is too keen a student of public life to remain inarticulate for long. Slowly he lit his pipe and holding the dead match methodically aloft, he delivered the following: "If there's an independent candidate, he'll have to be a strong Manion independent before he'll get my support. Manion is the only man who can weld the people of this country together. But I'm a firm believer in the two party system. We'll have a candidate."

Reeve Fred Lundy, victor in many a hard-fought local campaign, and a power among the local Tories, was a trifle hesitant.

"I believe that in the present frame of mind of the people of this riding, followers of both parties might support a good independent candidate." Then he stopped suddenly. "We'll have a man in there, don't you worry."

Dr. S. J. Boyd, mayor of Newmarket, and a prominent Conservative whose own name has been mentioned in connection with the nomination, didn't hesitate a minute. "I don't think these fellows know as much as they think they do," he rapped out. "This is a big riding. They are only a small part of it and it's up to the rank and file of the Conservative party assembled in a formal nomination meeting to decide a question like this."

Joe Vale, deputy-reeve of Newmarket and president of the local Liberal association, was not anxious to become involved in Tory politics. "Do you want opposition?" he was asked. "Well, I'll say this. We're not afraid of opposition, but apart from that I've nothing for publication."

Reds Trim King City Niles Strikes Out 11 Final Score 13-4

LAST SCHEDULED GAME PLAYED IN SEMI-DARKNESS

TRIVETT, CAIN STAR

Playoffs begin Tuesday night in the York Simcoe softball league with Newmarket visiting Richmond Hill and Sutton going to Aurora. The best two out of three games will decide. The return games are to be played on Thursday and if a 3rd one is necessary it will be played the following Tuesday night. King City which finished last in the group is a "B" entry and will play off with Midhurst of the northern group. The teams finished the regular schedule in the following order: Newmarket, Sutton, Richmond Hill, Aurora, King City.

Playing in darkness throughout most of the game, Newmarket Reds turned aside King City at the latter's home diamond by a 13-4 score on Tuesday evening.

Newmarket started the ball rolling in the initial inning with Trivett and Cain connecting for homers. Giles, Gibney and Cunningham were retired. Niles struck out the first three King batters to face him.

The second inning was the big noise for the Redmen. During this frame the Newmarketers were really laying on the hickory, scoring no less than seven runs. Welsh, Peters, Hilton, Niles, Giles, Trivett and Cain crossing the plate. In King's half four men advanced and got three strikeouts and one single.

This gave Niles six strikeouts out of the first seven men to face him. As darkness was creeping on rapidly the Reds were quite contented to hold their lead and speed the game up to be able to play the required seven innings. During the remainder of the game the Newmarketers added four more runs to bring their total up to 13.

The King boys came to life in the fourth inning and scored two runs coupled with a walk and two scratch singles. They also counted one in the sixth and one in the seventh to bring their total to four.

Great credit goes to the King team for their creditable showing in this, their first year in the York Simcoe league. Due to a little bad luck they were on the short side of the score in numerous games, but they never gave up, and went down fighting to the last. We feel sure that the year's experience in the league will help them out considerably, and no doubt next year the King lads will make it more than interesting for the most of the teams.

For Newmarket, Niles was the standout having no less than eleven strikeouts to his credit. Welsh donned the mask behind the bat and made a very good job of the catching duties.

Newmarket—Niles, p; Welsh, c; Peters, 1b; Giles, 2b; Trivett, 3b; Hilton, ss; Cunningham, lf; Cain, cf; Gibney, rf.

MEET REPRESENTATIVES OF SCOTTISH INSTITUTES

Mrs. H. J. Charles of Aurora, Mrs. C. F. Doane, Newmarket, Mrs. R. Willis, Vander, Mrs. C. W. Marchant, Schomberg, and Mrs. Phil Hamilton, Sharon, represented the Women's Institute of this district when a small number of ladies were invited to the Old Mill, Toronto, on Sunday, to meet the 58 women of the Scottish Institutes who are on a tour conducted by Miss Winnifred Wrench, editor of "The Scottish Home and Country."

The visitors left for New York on Wednesday, sailing on Friday for Scotland.

instances the public can purchase articles just as cheaply from the independent merchant as from the great city stores. But the public must be educated to the advantage of buying locally. The man who has his investment here is the man who fosters community spirit. In many cases where one town is dead and another one thriving, the only cause that I can see is the progressive spirit of the merchants.

"Would the Old Boys' Reunion have been possible without the help and interest of the local business men? They got little or no benefit from it personally, but think of the publicity they gave our town. Why I have found places a hundred miles away talking with interest of our reunion!"

Modern Weekend Jaunt Differs From Old Days

The potentialities of modern transportation were ably demonstrated by Bruce Andrews and Gordon Jarvis over the holiday. While their grandfathers would have been spending the weekend getting to and from the Lennox picnic, these two lads were journeying 1,148 miles, crossing ferries, riding in aeroplanes, visiting two great cities and even taking a casual look into the United States.

Using young Jarvis' car they first went to Kingston, inspected historic old Fort Henry, and thence to Ottawa and the parliament buildings. At Montreal they visited the great St. Hubert airport and at Cornwall they were attracted by the big Hone weaving plant. They crossed the Ivy Lea bridge and returned by ferry to Gananoque. The sound of band music made them stop off in Cobourg, where they found an old boys' reunion in progress. Here they took an aeroplane ride and decided to head back to Newmarket. Both find it rather hard to settle down to work this week.

Takes Injured Publisher Home From World's Fair

ERA EDITOR GOES TO NOVA SCOTIA WITH FRIEND HURT IN NEW YORK

A. O. Hebb, editor of The Era, was forced to cut short his holiday at the World's Fair yesterday and head for Halifax, N. S. He is accompanying Cecil Day, publisher of the Liverpool, N.S. weekly newspaper, The Advance, who fell in the New York World's Fair Grounds yesterday and broke his right thigh bone.

Mr. Day has one crippled leg and it is believed the accident happened when his crutch slipped on the wet pavement. He and Mr. Hebb were on a two-day visit to the Fair with fellow-members of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association. Incidentally, Mr. Hebb will be going back to familiar territory, as he is a native maritimer.

LENNOX PICNIC DRAWS ORATORS

The Lennox memorial picnic failed to attract the usual large crowd on Monday. The speakers were men who have been mentioned as possible candidates for North York Conservative convention, according to J. E. Nesbitt, president of the association, and a possible candidate himself.

Others who spoke were Dr. S. J. Boyd, mayor of Newmarket, Dr. C. R. Boulding, Aurora, and Mrs. L. D. Train, Nobleton.

Many Canadian Editors Travel To World's Fair

PLAN VARIED PROGRAM OF BUSINESS AND PLEASURE AT NIAGARA FALLS

Brampton, Ont., Aug. 2—Representatives of weekly newspapers from coast to coast, numbering close to 300, gathered at the General Brock Hotel, Niagara Falls, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, on the occasion of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association's 20th annual convention.

The three-day sessions will be followed by a trip to New York, where members and their wives will be entertained by various organizations and officials during their two-day visit to the world's fair. Sessions at the Falls open with an informal welcoming luncheon as guest of J. G. Johnston, Association, Toronto, when the guest speaker will be Louis Blake Duff, of Wolland.

While the ladies of the gathering are being entertained to afternoon tea and sight-seeing tours on the opening afternoon, editors will listen to an address by Dean M. Lyle Spencer, Syracuse University, N. Y., on "The Weekly Press Tomorrow," and participate in the discussion of Circulation Standards for Weeklies at the first of a series of forums, led by Andrew O. Hebb, of Newmarket.

STOUFFVILLE PAPER RANKS HIGH IN CONTEST

The Stouffville Tribune ranked third in Dominion wide competition for the best weekly newspaper of between 1,000 and 2,000 circulation at the C.W.N.A. convention at Niagara Falls last week. This was for the Charles Clark cup, three times won by The Era. First was the Kelowna (H. C.) Courier, and second was the Listowel (Ont.) Banner.

Dinner at the Park Restaurant, as guests of the Niagara Parks Commission, will conclude the Thursday sessions, when delegates will be privileged to hear an address by D. Leo Dolan, Chief Canadian Travel Bureau, Ottawa. Frank H. Hutchinson, secretary-manager of the New York Press Association, Syracuse, will be heard on Friday morning, also Glen Bannerman, president of the Association of Canadian Advertisers, and John Martin of the Massey-Harris Company. At noon, delegates will adjourn to visit the Canadian Cynanid plant and be entertained to lunch at that company's restaurant. Afternoon sessions will be given over entirely to group forums, led

ROLLING THE PORK BARREL

"They're rolling the pork barrel from the Atlantic to the Pacific," says Dr. Manion. The Globe and Mail goes further. It sees "an unseemly scramble on the part of cities and towns all over the country to get their feet in the trough." The Globe and Mail doesn't relish the idea. But what does the Globe and Mail do about it? It doesn't like party troughs so, pulling its skirts away from the contamination, it mutters fatuously, "Only the people can stop this sort of thing." How? By another Leadership League? We had enough of that last winter. No one can doubt that the best type of government is the two-party system. If we are going to eliminate the pork barrel, the place to go to work is in the two parties. Start with the nomination meetings. Don't send a man to bear your party's standard merely because he has spent four years at Ottawa. Clean out the incompetents at the start. Don't wait till the election is on and then grouse about the calibre of the candidates. There's nothing wrong with the system. It's the best in the world. But it needs the best people and the best papers to make it work. Let the Globe and Mail shed its dainty skirts and get down in the mud of party politics. You can't stop a pork barrel rolling without getting your hands dirty. And you can always wash them off.

THE DUMP AND THE M. O. H.

Newmarket has a dump. The odor of that dump is offensive to man and beast throughout the north-eastern section of the town. Newmarket has a paid medical health officer. One of the duties of that officer is to regulate nuisances deleterious to the welfare of the community. Dr. Wesley has taken his responsibilities seriously. Whether or not his efforts have been appreciated, he has worked hard to safeguard the citizens' health. But what is he going to do about the dump? Does he want an incinerator? Then why not have the board of health recommend it to the council? Let them take the responsibility if the M. O. H. really doesn't want this issue to drag on and smell on for another generation.

"ON WITH THE DANCE"

The dance at the fair grounds Monday night presented a peculiar spectacle. The weather was ideal. Beneath the soft rays of a romantic moon, the lilting strains of the orchestra positively wooed the swains of North York to lead their young ladies to the new floor. But the swains refused to be wooed. They stood and watched, with a mild form of interest, the efforts of a few hardy couples to get things going. Is the youth of our town losing the capacity for enjoyment? Max Boag has a novel explanation. He has felt for some time that there is a growing hiatus between the two age groups. The young people who have been dancing for the last ten or 15 years are beginning to weaken. They can only be drawn from their shells three or four times a year and then only for sponsored dances. But without them the 'teen-age crowd feel embarrassed and won't take the fling. "If they'd only come for one dance," groaned Max, "the rest would soon get started." Shades of the Victorian era!

POOR TURN-OUT AT RACES

The horse racing on Civic holiday was not a financial success. In fact there was a decided deficit. This was very unfortunate, for the committee in charge have put a lot of hard work into staging shows and improving the fair grounds. Outside entries came in good numbers but the local people failed to turn out. It seems impossible to get Newmarket people to stay home on a long weekend. As one committee member stated to another, "Where would you be if you didn't have to be here?" The answer came without hesitation, "Up at the lake with the family!" Perhaps the solution would be to hold the races on some Wednesday afternoon when the factories were closed. At any rate, the committee has lost heart in trying to promote holiday events.

WAITING FOR THE RESULTS

These are the days when students and parents all over Ontario are anxiously waiting for the results of the June examinations. Except for an occasional twinge of memory, most of the young people were able to drive such worries from their minds during July. Once Civic holiday has made its bow, however, it is no longer possible to assume indifference. The youngsters are frankly worried. Momentarily their viewpoint changes. Skiing, skating, parties and shows—all those attractions which entertainingly beckoned them away in the long winter evenings momentarily dwindle in importance. Caesar, Macbeth and the elements of chemistry assume a new significance. Then comes the relapse. The results are out and soon they are back to normal once more.

Marking Matriculation Papers

The department of education in Ontario has developed an almost fool-proof system for handling the matriculation examinations. When the papers first reach the department, the name slips are removed and only numbers are used to identify the candidates' papers. Thus the teachers who mark the examinations have no means of knowing whose papers they are reading. In order to secure uniformity, a committee of four or five teachers supervise the work of each group. To allow for a margin of error, all papers in a fairly wide range are entirely re-read. The papers are then bundled and forwarded to a new group—the checkers. These people are responsible for ensuring that no mechanical errors have appeared in the marker's work. If they find any they return them for correction. At this stage the papers are sent back to the department. Here the marks are entered on the list of candidates. Then the revising board meets, but what goes on there is hidden behind a veil of secrecy. It is assumed, however, that individual consideration is there given to border-line candidates. Whatever our opinion of examinations in general may be, we must admit that the Ontario department of education is making the best of it.

LAKE SIMCOE PHILOSOPHY

What a cross-section of Ontario life is presented on the shores of Lake Simcoe! Bankers, doctors, clerks and mechanics—they gather there in their thousands these hot weekends. Some have palatial residences, others comfortable little cottages on sandy shores. Still others have nondescript shacks with none of the conveniences considered essential to modern life. They tinker with motor-boats, they fell trees, they plant flowers and they build verandahs. They do things that they could never hope to do at home and they revel in it. They forget for a few hours the marts of trade and commerce, the chaos of the exchange, the imperious ringing of telephones and all the harsh dissonance of business life. One is reminded forcibly of MacLean's poem:

"Lord, I am but a little clerk,
That scratches with a pen;
I rise and eat and toil and sleep,
Just as all other men.

But all I ask is a breath of life
Once for a little while."

In a sense it's pathetic, but still there's something wholesome about this Anglo-Saxon type of holiday. A nation that seeks its "breath of life" in this way will never be accused of pandering to the prejudices of a war-mongering world. A weekend is too much fun. Let's go to the lake!

A DAY OF RECKONING

For some years the council has followed a very conservative policy with regard to the roads of our town. We have no fault to find with this policy. Relief expenditures were rising, other communities were going bankrupt and it was undoubtedly necessary to curb all capital expenditure. The citizens saw their roads, for which they had paid so much, disintegrating before the attacks of wear and weather. They said nothing because the town was in no position to prevent this unfortunate waste. But how long is this to go on? We all know what happens to houses when they are left unpainted and unrepaired for a period of years. Roads are the same. If a definite sum is not put aside each year and applied to upkeep we will eventually reach the point where the whole works will have to be scrapped. Consider the tremendous outlay we will then be faced with! We wouldn't use this false economy on our own property, why practise it on that of the citizens?

A LION LIKES LOCAL MERCHANTS

Last week the Bowmanville Lions Club took over the editorial page of the Canadian Statesman. They did it well. One article which many local merchants would doubtless appreciate, ended with the following comment: "Some may say why worry about the local bakers? Here is why: Because he pays taxes on his business and his residence, wages to his employees which are in turn spent with other merchants in the town. He supports local institutions, he co-operates with citizens for the betterment of the community. In fact every move your local baker makes, as well as every other local merchant, tends to lower the taxes of his fellow citizens. He supports religious, charitable, sport and philanthropic endeavors, as a loyal and willing town-builder, which you would have to support to a greater degree if he were not in business here."

I wonder what there is about Newmarket that has attracted so many mosquitoes this summer.

It's gratifying to see the old fair grounds becoming a centre of activity once more. The ball diamond, bleachers, grandstand and race-track have been used by thousands in the past few weeks. All praise to the first of July committee who started the ball rolling.

The appalling record of drownings in Ontario has led to the suggestion that no child be granted an entrance certificate without first knowing how to swim. If that is a "fad and frill" it has more merit than many that are usually put forward.

There has been an appreciable lessening of summer traffic through Newmarket this year. Motorists are trying to dodge the bottle neck at Richmond Hill. The new highway on the fourth is growing in popularity. I wonder if our congested Main Street has anything to do with it.

Millions of motorists have blessed the inventor of the white line which bisects the paved highways of North America. Can anyone be found to praise the individual responsible for the drab discoloration that has been deposited for a similar purpose on the county roads in the last few weeks? In darkness or dirty weather it can scarcely be distinguished.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eves have returned from Burlington where they spent a few days with Mrs. Eves' parents. Dr. Clark and family motored to Penetang on Sunday. Mrs. Clark and the children will remain for two weeks. Messrs. James, George and Will Clark, with their families, and Mrs. Joseph Meads, Toronto, spent civic holiday with their mother, Mrs. John Stark, Bedford.

MERRY CHATS WITH MRS. CARDINAL

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"I saw Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal back in town yesterday," Young Chips, the Chickadee, told his mate, Merry. "There were no children with them, though."

"I think I'll just go and see if I can find them and have a chat," said Merry. "I haven't laid eyes on them all summer."

Merry flew off to the west side of the town and began hunting around. Eventually she discovered Mrs. Cardinal timidly feeding at a feeding station in a garden.

"Why hello, Mrs. Cardinal—how nice to see you!" exclaimed Merry. "Where is the rest of your family?"

"Oh, my husband is around somewhere nearby," said the Cardinal lady, "but our children, although they are really quite grown up, are too shy to come into town at all. And we lost one youngster. A cat got him."

"How very sad, I'm so sorry," murmured Merry. As she looked at the other bird she couldn't help admitting to herself that she was a very pretty little lady.

"She certainly isn't a beautiful, vivid red like her husband," thought Merry, "but on the other hand, there's no reason to feel sorry for her because she's ugly and plain, as I have often thought before. She's got a soft reddish tinge to her greenish-buff costume, which gives a very pretty effect, and with that dainty little crest, she is very graceful. And that bright red bill of hers is quite striking, too."

"Just listen to that Red-eyed Vireo singing!" said Mrs. Cardinal. "The Vireos certainly believe in keeping up their pretty warbling even on hot summer days like this one."

"Yes, it does sound nice," agreed Merry. "No wonder they are sometimes called the Preacher-birds. They certainly keep preaching that song, over and over again."

"The Vireos are a fine family, I think," said Mrs. Cardinal. "And they do a lot of good, because their food is almost entirely of harmful insects. Any fruit they do eat is generally wild fruit. They are like the Cardinals in that, but we eat weed seeds too."

"The Red-eyed Vireo is the largest of the Vireos that we see in Canada, isn't he?" Merry asked the Cardinal. "I wonder if we could see him."

"Yes, he's bigger than you are," answered the other. "I'm sure he's somewhere in that elm tree. Don't you see him from where you are?"

"Oh, yes, I do now," answered Merry. "He's peering down at me through the leaves. He's white underneath and dull olive-green above, rather like a Warbler. He has a grey patch on the top of his head and quite a prominent white line above his eye, bordered with a darker line, above and below."

"Can you see his red eye?" inquired the Cardinal.

"No, I guess I'm not close enough," said Merry. "I'll go closer and look again." Merry flew up into the elm tree and stared hard at the Vireo for a minute or two.

"Oh, yes, I saw his red eyes then," she said, when she went back to her friend. "And I also saw that he had a funny notched bill, with a little hook at the tip. It reminded me unpleasantly of the cruel bills of our enemies, the Shrikes, but, of course, it is much smaller and lighter."

"We've been talking about that Vireo up in the tree there as if it were a gentleman, but it might be a lady," pointed out the Cardinal. "They dress just alike, you know, like you and your mate."

"I had forgotten about that," said Merry. "I should have known because I remember that my very first autumn, when I was only a few months old, there was a Vireo with our little crowd of birds for quite a long time. Since then it just happens that I haven't had much to do with any of the Vireos."

"The Warbling Vireos are the other most common variety in Canada, I would think," said Mrs. Cardinal, "although they are more often heard than seen. They are smaller than the Red-eyes, and look like little, dull, greyish-green warblers, and they have a faint eyebrow line. Their song is a rather long warble."

"You are well-informed, Mrs. Cardinal," said Merry admiringly. "I have lots of chance to know about other birds, but I guess I'm a bit scatter-brained."

"Nonsense!" said Mrs. Cardinal. "You're just the friendly, talkative type, and naturally a lot of what you hear goes in one ear and out the other. We Cardinals are more solemn and serious. Well, I must go back to the woods now. It's not often I have such a long chat with anyone."

Editor, The Era: There is being launched in Toronto a movement called The Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women. This is a plan to register Canadian women for national service. The registration is to be done by a door-to-door canvass, details of which are given in an article published in the June issue of "Chateaufort."

Volunteer workers will call at all the homes in Canada, with the exception of the province of Quebec. An extensive questionnaire will be used and the replies will be tabulated and stored in the files of the sponsoring committee. "It is expected," according to the Chateaufort article, "that most women approached will be willing to co-operate, though if canvassers find anyone hostile to the scheme, or openly disloyal, that information too will be filed."

The sponsors of this plan are seeking the approval of the government, the co-operation of women's organizations, and the support of prominent women. The provision committee consisted of Senator Fallis and Mrs. Black, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Mitchell Hepburn. Senator Carleton Wilson has removed her name from the committee and Miss Agnes Macphail disapproves of the project. Although the press release after the organization meeting on May 25th gave an impression of widespread enthusiasm for the scheme, there are several groups which were not in accord with the plan. No provision was made for these groups to discuss the wider implications of this plan in the meeting, and messages of disapproval, notably a long letter from the president of the Dominion W.C.T.U., were suppressed.

Women's organizations may be approached for their co-operation in this Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women. Before you commit your group to this project, we would urge you to consider seriously the following facts.

CLOTH OF GOLD

By Isabel Inghis Colville

It isn't of the "Field of the Cloth of Gold, where kings met, and man-made grandeur created a spectacle of marvellous brilliance," and yet, I venture to say, the sight we saw was just as arresting, for it was brought into being by the great Creator for his own enjoyment and ours.

We were driving along the town line—baseline—a continuation of Huron Street—what you will—east of Yonge, and skirting the lower end of the Holland Marsh. On one side of us flowed a little river, on the other we saw neat squares of onions, long rows of lettuce, and nearer the road, tiny houses—not old—which housed the families, the fruits of whose industry were so evident.

It must have taken courage to build these foundationless homes, so far they seemed from town or city—one felt the true pioneer spirit reigned here—the determination to cope with nature—and conquer—which animated our forbears.

Most of the little homes had a few flowers, and some showed that here abode people who wanted their houses to look like homes, not mere shelters from the elements.

We stopped and bought something and the owner of the place took my better half round a bit; told him something of his methods and the success of his venture. He told him that they did not know what the marketing would be like in the fall, but up to now it had been very fair. There was a quiet cheerfulness and determination, which to say the least, was inspiring.

As we went on and passed the little houses, we saw a canal over-arched by trees, the leaves flickering in the light breeze and casting dancing reflections in the still water; and then—"Oh Archie," I said softly, "for one couldn't shout in the midst of such sheer breath-taking loveliness. For as far as the eye could reach was a veritable 'Field of the Cloth of Gold!'"

Around it stood tall sentinels in purple, as if guarding its loveliness, and graceful ladies in green dresses and wide lace hats nodded to each other, as they listened to the bird orchestra which seemed to be singing a grand triumphal chorus, to celebrate the birth of such loveliness. It is, alas, a fleeting evanescent loveliness, but I don't think any of us dream of what beauty lies just beyond our doors—surely within reach of us all.

I think that this summer I have learned to say with Shakespeare that there are "Tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything."

Canada opened their war games on a 60-mile front somewhere in the Baxter, Alliston, Cookstown and Thornton districts north of Barrie on Wednesday.

Practically 30 per cent of the youths taking the dominion provincial training courses intended to lead to employment last year, were actually placed in employment, according to a review issued Tuesday by the department of labor.

Transients, flocking to the prairies in the hope of obtaining work in the harvest fields, are causing uneasiness in Saskatchewan, it is reported. The unemployed men have not been disorderedly but have said that if they are not fed they will help themselves.

If Canada does not make use of its natural blessings, "other forces will enter sooner or later and take the task off our hands," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative member from B. C., stated this week.

vassers go about the land asking such questions—and there are 24 of them—they will spread fear and hysteria in almost every home they visit. Many women will not realize that this is an amateur and unofficial canvass. They will assume that this is a governmental action, and that Canada is on the verge of war.

This fear will reflect itself first of all in a slowing down of all business. Since Munich, the women, buyers of home supplies and spenders of a large proportion of the average income, have unconsciously shut down upon their purchasing. This unconscious buying strike is causing concern to business everywhere. It is caused by a lack of confidence in the future of Canada and a fear of war.

A registration for national service would intensify this trend and turn the fear to panic. The step from fear to hate is short and in a very short time, we should have full-grown, a senseless war mentality, which would undo all the efforts now being made by our government to maintain peace and improve international relations.

The registration and tabulation of a population is a serious matter and democratic nations hesitate long before attempting it. It is, of course, a common-place in Fascist countries. This projected Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women is to be carried out by a self-appointed unofficial committee, with funds raised in its own way. This committee is answerable to no one for its activities, its use of money, or for the use to which it puts the information gathered. Surely if national needs ever require a national registration of women, this should be carried out, not by self-appointed and irresponsible amateurs, however excellent their motives, but by the locally appointed agents of a government, which has received its mandate from the people.

No one can object if a single club wishes to register its members for any purpose. Should we give to a joint committee of club women the power to canvass the nation, and through amateur agents define which members of the community are "disloyal"? It is obvious from the literature sent out that anyone who is hostile to this scheme is "de facto" presumed to be disloyal. The possibilities of intimidation and denunciation involved in this phase are mischievous and very dangerous.

This whole scheme is based upon the assumption that war is inevitable, that Canadian women have done all they can for peace and must now prepare for war, and that some day some day be a serious economic crisis in Canada.

It is true that war is a fact in large areas and a horrible possibility all over the world. This turn to anarchy is not inevitable. It is the result of a whole series of human actions and attitudes which created anarchic national policies. The road to war has been paved by the failure of the nations to deal with injustices and grievances by methods of peaceful change, by the creation of tariff barriers, by hysterical patriotism, and by the sabotage of the League of Nations. Canada had her share in this and the present government, although elected on a League of Nations platform, has led in the betrayal of the League.

The way of equity and good will and law has not been tried. Until that way has been tried, we have no right to assume that war is inevitable, or that, should it break out in Europe, we should be involved.

We have not done all we can to prevent war, or to stop the aggressive states. While we supply Japan with war materials, copper, nickel and scrap iron, with one hand, we build fortifications on our west coast to defend ourselves against Japan with the other. The women of Canada have made no effective protest against this collaboration with war-makers.

As for the dangerous economic crisis; it is not coming, it is here. When the average yearly income of the Canadian citizen is under $1,000; when after seven years of inaction we have a million unemployed; when the families of unemployed men are living on diets which are inadequate, by the standards of the Ontario Medical Association survey; when this happens in a land of almost inexhaustible resources—who can say that we have no crisis at present? This crisis challenges the patriotism of all Canadian women. A registration for war service will not meet the crisis.

Why should not the women of Canada pour out their splendid energies and talents to serve the forces of life rather than those of death? We would urge that Canadian women should work now through the organizations to which they already belong, work for certain definite objectives.

We suggest the following:

1. Ask for a government embargo on the shipment of war materials to aggressive nations.

2. Demand a federal works project to provide work instead of relief for all the unemployed.

3. Work now for the calling of an international conference, as suggested by President Roosevelt, and in Toronto by Canon Raven, the king's chaplain. This international conference, even though limited in scope, might yet save the world from war.

We should be glad to hear from women as to what decision they make in regard to the registration and also in regard to the constructive program we suggest.

DON'T REGISTER FOR WAR PREVENT IT.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. F. G. Fowke, Secretary.
Mrs. John Grieve, Convenor.

POLICE COURT

Cars Must Keep In Line
For Sunday Night TrafficMAGISTRATE FINES MOTOR-IST FOR PASSING SOLID
LINE OF CARS

A $10 fine was imposed on Roy Tout, Toronto, for reckless driving.

"Tout drove at 60 m.p.h. on Sunday night past a solid line of traffic and when he met another car he dived back suddenly into the line going at 15 m.p.h.," testified Constable Ferguson. "Tout passed several cars while going through Richmond Hill but he didn't drive so fast."

"You must keep in line on Yonge St. on Sunday nights as it is a very dangerous thing to turn out," stated Magistrate Woodliffe.

On a charge of passing when the road ahead was not clear of approaching traffic Rex Watkins, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs. Constable Ferguson stated that he was forced to pull over sharply to the shoulder of the road and that the car which Watkins passed was also forced to pull over to avoid a collision. A fine of $5 and costs was also imposed on James Harper, Toronto, for careless driving.

Constable Jardine testified that Harper turned out on a hill and passed a tractor hauling a binder while he couldn't see the road ahead of him.

A minister with Harper stated that the youth was on an errand of mercy and that he thought the tractor had stopped so he turned out and passed it.

For driving without flares on his truck John Johnstone, Richvale, was fined $5 and costs.

SELLING CREAM
On a charge of selling cream in North Gwillimbury without a license Percy Bloom, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs. Constable Carl Morton, North Gwillimbury, testified that he found Bloom selling cream along the lake shore road. "Bloom admitted to me that he had sold cream in the municipality and I also got receipts from two people who bought cream from him. There are only two dairies in the municipality allowed to sell cream. Several people have applied for a license to sell cream but they have been refused. Bloom never even applied for a license."

"Didn't Bloom tell you that he was delivering orders?" asked defence counsel.

"Yes," answered Constable Morton.

"Didn't he have other commodities on the truck?" "Yes."

"If the accused Bloom had known it was against the law of the township to sell cream he wouldn't have had it on the truck," stated defence counsel.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION
A charge of having illegal possession of liquor laid against Herbert Brown, Toronto, was dismissed by the magistrate.

Constable John Williamson, Whitechurch township, stated that he asked Brown to unlock his car which was in front of a dance hall at Lake Wilcox. In the car he found ten full pints of beer and 14 empty bottles and Brown smelled of liquor, the constable stated.

Brown testified that he purchased the beer legally in Toronto and that he had a party of friends at his cottage at Lake Wilcox and that they had been drinking at the cottage. "We intended to leave for Toronto right after the dance so I put the empty bottles and the ten pints in my car and I locked the car when we went into the dance. I wasn't drinking at the dance hall at all and I didn't know it was wrong to leave the beer in the car when it was locked."

ASSAULT
After reserving judgment for one week the magistrate gave suspended sentence to Robert Riley, Musselman's Lake, bound him over for one year to keep the peace and ordered him to pay the court costs of $9.50, on a charge of assault laid by Donald Davis, Uxbridge. Last week the magistrate ordered Riley to pay a $10 doctor bill incurred by Davis.

Davis testified last week that Riley knocked him unconscious outside a dance hall at Musselman's Lake and injured his jaw and gave him a black eye.

CARELESS DRIVING CHARGE
Two charges of careless driving and reckless driving laid against W. Percy Webb, Toronto, were both dismissed by the magistrate.

Wilfred Galbraith, proprietor of a service station on Yonge St., stated that Webb and another man came to his service station about 10.15 p.m., on Saturday night, July 22. "The two men went into the rest room and then came into the booth. Webb's breath smelled of liquor, he walked unsteadily, and from his general condition I would say that he was not fit to drive as he was intoxicated. Webb had a little trouble starting his car and then he backed out onto Yonge St. and he was nearly hit by a transport truck."

"Do cars usually back out of your service station?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K. C.

"Cars often back onto the road and I have done it several times myself," answered Galbraith.

Constable Reeves, Bradford, stated that Webb and another man came to his place later that night and that Webb said he wished to report an accident. "I called Constable Ferguson to my house as Webb said the accident had taken place on Yonge St. south of Bradford. Webb was very unsteady on his feet and talking erratically and his companion kept telling him to shut up. I could smell liquor on his breath. Constable Ferguson asked him if he had stopped anywhere between Toronto and Bradford and Webb answered definitely no."

On a charge of having illegal possession of liquor Fred W. Tansley, Roche's Point, was fined $100 and costs of $15, or three months, his premises were declared public, and the liquor was ordered confiscated, by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in police court here on Tuesday. There were 92 cases on the court list but several were adjourned for hearing.

Tansley pleaded guilty to the charge through his counsel, A. D. Crow, Toronto.

"On July 7, at 7.30 p.m., in company with County Constable William Martindale I went to Tansley's home at Roche's Point with a search warrant," testified County Constable Alex. McCallum.

"While searching the house we found a part bottle of rye whiskey on a kitchen shelf. We then followed a path leading from the house to where a fence was broken down. After searching around the place a short distance from the house we found eight large bottles of rye whiskey and three small bottles of gin. A car drove into Tansley's yard while we were there and we found two cartons of beer in it. There was no slip produced for the purchase of the beer or no permit for the liquor."

"Didn't the youth who was driving the car say that he had bought the beer?" asked Mr. Crow.

"Yes," answered Constable McCallum.

"Did you have any trouble entering the premises of Tansley?" "No."

The magistrate ordered that the beer be returned to its rightful owner.

RECKLESS DRIVING
Convicted on a charge of reckless driving Morley Spenceley, Uxbridge, had his driver's license suspended for 60 days and in addition was fined $5 and costs of $21.60, or ten days.

"On July 23, at 1 a.m., I was proceeding west on the Virginia Road around 40 m.p.h.," testified Ben Terry, Toronto. "I was driving on the right side of the road watching the shoulder and Spenceley was approaching driving east. Spenceley suddenly came over to my side of the road and hit me head on and tore off my left front wheel and my car went into the ditch and through a fence. I had a girl with me in the car but neither of us was injured. I was driving a 1934 Oldsmobile and the extent of the damages was between $175 and $200. When I got out of my car Spenceley was on the left side of the road near the ditch. The front wheel of the Spenceley car was also taken off in the impact and it was damaged too. There were two other men with Spenceley in the front seat of his car which was a 1931 Willis."

Constable Archie Shadwick, Georgina township, stated that the road where the impact took place was 18 feet wide. "There was a deep gouge in the road at the point of impact. The Spenceley car went over the centre of the road and struck the Terry car head on. The extent of the damages to the Spenceley car was around $75."

Spenceley stated that his car nearly went off the road and that he pulled it over too far on the road and struck the Terry car.

For careless driving Frank Barry, Toronto, was fined $15 and costs.

"I observed Barry coming down Yonge St. and he was cutting in and out of traffic and driving at a high speed," stated Provincial Constable A. O. Ferguson. "I chased Barry three miles before stopping him and he admitted going at 70 m.p.h. but I thought he was going faster than that."

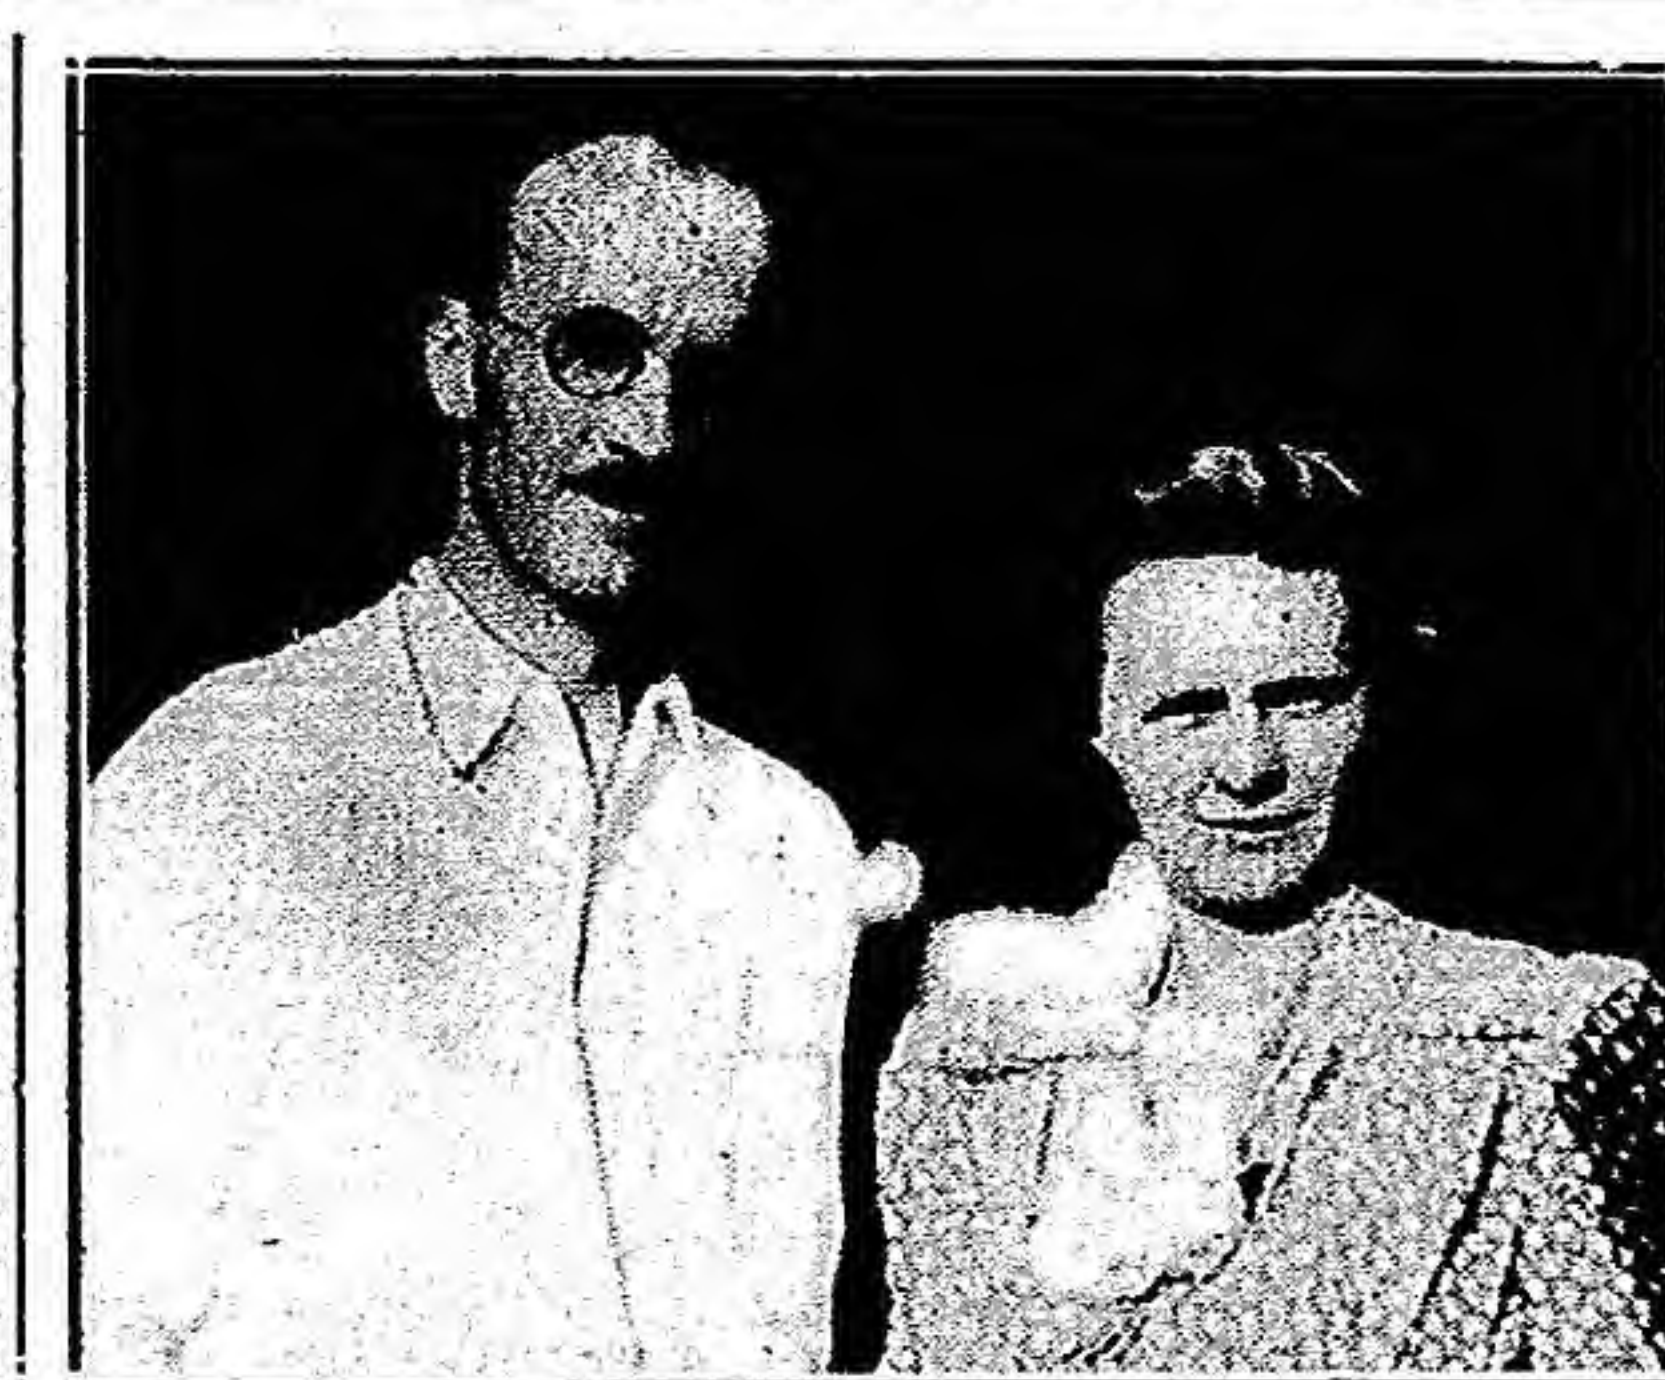

"I had to go to Orillia and back in one day and I was trying to make time but I don't think I was doing 70 m.p.h.," stated Barry.

G. H. Wilson, Toronto, was also fined $15 and costs for reckless driving.

"On Sunday evening, July 23, I was going north on Yonge St. near the Orange home and Wilson, who was proceeding south in the line of traffic, turned out to pass another car," stated Bert Wolfrey, Richmond Hill. "Instead of staying on the centre lane Wilson came over and hit me head on."

Constable Ferguson testified that the Wolfrey car was damaged and that a two-year-old child was also injured when Wilson hit the Wolfrey car.

Constable Ferguson stated that Webb told him that his car was involved in an accident with another car and that the car drove on. "Webb's car was badly dam-

ST. JAMES' CHURCH
PLANS ANNUAL PICNIC

The congregation and Sunday-school of St. James' church purpose holding their picnic at the rectory grounds at Roche's Point, on Saturday, Aug. 19.

There will be a celebration of the holy communion at St. James on Sunday Aug. 13, at 10 a.m., S. T. and at Christ Church, Holland Landing at 11.10 a.m., S. T. The services will be in charge of the Rev. A. J. Forte.

Mr. and Mrs. Quakenbush and Diane of Toronto spent the holiday weekend with Mrs. F. McKrell and Shirley.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Black and Miss Parker, all of Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Palmateer and John spent Sunday at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Merton Shaw and Miss Helen Shaw left on Saturday on a trip to Madison, Wisconsin.

During the month of August there will be no service in Sharon United church.

Mrs. Dixon of Toronto is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fife.

Mrs. Elmer Fry and Donna spent the weekend at Markham with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wicks, Jr.

Mrs. Wm. Tansley spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Wellie Stevens.

Mrs. John Moore of Mount Albert and Miss Jane Moore of Los Angeles, Cal., spent Tuesday with Mrs. Alan Shaw.

Miss Grace Palmer spent Sunday in Toronto with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Port of San Diego, Cal., also Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ross and Miss Helen Ross, of Strange, visited their cousin, Mrs. R. Shaw, on Friday last.

Miss Ruby Stevens of Kirkland Lake is holidaying at her home here.

aged but although I made a close check no one else reported an accident that night and in my opinion the damages were so serious to his car that I believe there was not another car involved as the accident would have been reported. I would say that Webb was intoxicated and not too fit to drive. I asked him not to drive any farther that night so he stayed at the hotel. As he went toward the hotel, Webb staggered all over the sidewalk."

Webb testified that he was sideswiped by another car and that he stopped but that the other car went on. After having two glasses of beer at the hotel he went over and reported the accident to the constable. He also had two glasses of beer in Toronto before he left, Webb stated.

Crown Attorney Mathews stated that the evidence of Galbraith was entirely unsatisfactory and contradictory.

CATTLE CAUSE TROUBLE
After reserving judgment for one week the magistrate dismissed a charge of obstructing laid jointly against Mrs. Katherine Holly, Mrs. Grace Holly, and Frank West, all of Holland Landing. The same evidence was used on a charge of assault laid against Mrs. Katherine Holly and it was also dismissed. Both charges were laid by Richard Foster, Holland Landing.

Last week Foster testified that cattle had been getting into his garden and had eaten off a lot of plants so he received permission from the police to drive the cattle to the pound at Holland Landing. As he and his two little girls were driving the cattle, West and the two Holly women came out, and West started to drive the cattle back the other way and the Holly women threw stones at him, Foster stated. One stone thrown by Katherine Holly cut his wrist and made it bleed, Foster told the magistrate.

A charge of vagrancy laid against Richard Foster by Mrs. Katherine Holly was also dismissed.

Mrs. Holly and Mrs. Grace Holly both testified that Foster staggered up and down the street in front of their house several times, causing a disturbance, and then he stopped opposite their verandah and swore at them but that they paid no attention to him.

Foster stated that he never went up the street drunk that day and that he didn't swear at the women.

Mr. Mathews stated that he thought Mrs. Holly laid the charge against Foster to get even with him for laying charges against her.

Keswick

(Aug. 3)

Mrs. Cryderman, who has been ill in Sutton hospital, is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Ross Faulkard.

The community is sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Robinson, who are in very poor health, and expect to leave Keswick in the near future.

Little Miss Barbara Foster is quite ill. Friends wish her a very speedy recovery.

Miss Muriel Marriott is home on holidays from the Lake of Bays. Mr. Cecil Taylor who has been very ill with summer flu is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Clarke are on a motor trip to New York and the World's fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Morton attended the funeral of Mr. Morton's aunt, Mrs. James Peters. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Morton celebrated their wedding anniversary this week. Hearty congratulations are extended to the couple.

Miss Lillian Sedore took a boat trip to Niagara Falls on Tuesday. The community extends its deepest sympathy to Mrs. Tillett and family in the loss of a devoted husband and father.

Noble Effort, Anyway

The teacher had asked Bobby to give an example of each of the three verb forms—indicative, interrogative and imperative. After some deep thought, Bobby produced the following: "Tom is sick. Is Tom sick? Sit 'em Tom."

A COMPANY EVERY CANADIAN MAY WELL BE PROUD OF

From tiny beginnings on an Ontario farm ninety years ago, Massey-Harris has grown steadily, until now it is the largest maker of farm implements in the British Empire.

Keeping pace with and helping onward Canadian agriculture, it has also, since the Eighteen Eighties, spread out to most lands beyond the seas. Romance fills the years and experiences of the Company in its ventures abroad. A Canadian company with Canadian headquarters, it is today as solidly entrenched in the business of a score of other countries as it is in its native land.

Transacting business in 52 countries in addition to Canada, in the languages and currencies of these various countries it is as fascinating as it is profitable. For while the exigencies of crops and conditions may vary the Company's fortune in these lands, yet it is a fact, that in the years from 1928 to 1937, because of this export business, Massey-Harris spent, in Canada $21,261,763 more than the total revenue from its sales in Canada. Surely a valuable asset to our country and a Canadian achievement of which we may all be justly proud.

Mrs. Robt. Tillett, Duncan and May, wish to express their sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful during their recent bereavement.

In Memoriam

Knights—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Arthur Knights, who passed away on Friday, Aug. 9, 1935.

Goodnight, beloved,
Until the Easter Glory lights the sky,
Until the dead in Jesus shall arise,
And He shall come, but not in lowly guise.

Till then dear one, goodnight.
Also of little Dorothy, dearly loved daughter of Harry and Doris Knights, who fell asleep in Jesus, on Aug. 11, 1934.

"And He gathered the little ones into His arms."

NOTICE

IN THE MATTER OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTH Gwillimbury CLOSING HIGHWAY.

TAKE NOTICE that under the provisions of the Municipal Act, R. S. O. 1937, Chapter 266, Sections 495 and 498, the said Municipal Corporation by its Council gives notice of a proposed By-law herein set out, namely:

1. That there be stopped up that part from the base line in Lot Number 23, Concession 2, to the West boundary of the Varney Road in Lot Number 25, Concession 3, of the Highway in the Township of North Gwillimbury, formerly the right-of-way of the Toronto Transportation Commission, less whatever land is necessary to have the present Lakeshore Roadway adjacent thereto sixty-six feet (66 feet) in width throughout the full length of the part to be closed up.

2. That the above described part of highway when stopped up be sold and that a proper Deed or Deeds be given to the Purchaser or Purchasers of the lands or their Nominees.

3. That the Reeve and Clerk be and they are hereby authorized to sign the Deed or Deeds of the above described part of highway when stopped up and to cause the Seal of the Corporation to be attached thereto.

4. All By-laws inconsistent with this By-law are hereby repealed.

AND TAKE NOTICE FURTHER that the Council on the 11th day of September, 1939, at eight o'clock, p.m., Standard Time, at the Township Hall, Belhaven, Ontario, shall consider the said proposed By-law and hear in person, or by counsel, solicitor, or agent, any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by the By-law, and who applies to be heard.

DATED at Keswick, this 14th day of July, A. D., 1939.
Fred Peel, Clerk of the Township of North Gwillimbury.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. Peter Hansler and his bride (nee Bernice Dorothea Rix) who were married in Toronto recently.

JOY MEYER IS BRIDE OF HERBERT F. DUNHAM

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Anglican church on Saturday, July 29, when Miss Joy Irving Meyer, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Meyer became the bride of Herbert Frederick Dunham, son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. F. H. Dunham, of Toronto.

Rev. Everett Wasson of Toronto officiated, assisted by Rev. John Patstone. Mrs. J. O. Little played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Rev. Frank Brunton, of Bradenton, Florida.

The bride wore a long graceful gown of pale pink net, with fitted bodice and round collar caught with an heirloom cameo.

Her short veil of pale pink tulle was caught with rosebuds and she carried pink roses and lily-of-the-valley. Miss Marion Proctor was bridesmaid and wore a frock of turquoise net with wide Leghorn hat, and carried Shasta daisies.

The groomsmen were Mr. Donald McConachie, and the ushers were Mr. John Meyer, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Semple, of Toronto.

A reception was held at the home of Miss Edith Robertson, godmother of the bride, who received wearing a gown of orchid chiffon, with wide matching hat and corsage of orchids.

The mother of the groom was gowned in mauve printedorgette with wide hat. She carried a nosegay of pansies and violets.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Dunham left by motor for Algonquin Park, and on their return will live at Dawson Manor, Newmarket, the former home of the bride's grandparents. The bride travelled in a frock of dusky pink crepe with short jacket, fuchsia hat with quill and fuchsia accessories.

Miss Kathleen R. Stewart, formerly of the Newmarket high school staff, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart of Fort William, was married on Friday to Robert John Greer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arthur Greer of Toronto. Rev. S. H. Greenslade of Toronto officiated at the wedding which took place in the lovely garden of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Davis, Newmarket.

The garden was spaced off by aisle posts and garlands of pink and white flowers. As background for the bridal party were garden urns filled with pink and white gladioli and larkspur. A stringed orchestra played throughout the service and reception, while Miss Mary Davis, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

The bride wore an imported gown of hyacinth white chiffon over bridal satin, the bodice featured a heart-shaped neckline and long fitted sleeves pointed over the hand. The waistline was accented with inserted bands of satin which outlined the fullness at the back of the skirt, to form a long circular train. Her full-length veil of tulle illusion fell from a simple head-piece of satin. Her bouquet was of lilies-of-the-valley, white hybrid and spray orchids and sweetheart roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The attendants included Miss M. Jean Stewart, sister of the bride, Fort William, and Mrs. Blake McLean of Medina, Ohio. They were gowned alike in petal pink stiffened chiffon made with draped bodices, puff sleeves and heart-shaped necklines. The very full skirts fell from accented waistlines. In the heart of the flower applied on the skirts were natural blossoms. Their hats were little plateau models in petal pink accented with

Fire Brigade Brings Home Trophy From Whitby Contest

BEAT BARRIE FOR FIRST PLACE FOR GOOD APPEARANCE

That a fire department can be ornamental as well as useful was conclusively demonstrated this week when Fire Chief Frank Rowe and members of the Aurora Fire Brigade brought back a trophy for "best appearance and marching on parade."

The trophy was won in province-wide competition against 54 other brigades at the annual convention held in Whitby over the weekend. Known as the "Jacob's Trophy," the award was made for class "B" bands.

Despite the fact that the Barrie brigadiers had new uniforms and a band in attendance, Aurora managed to shove them into second place. Fire Chief Rowe, however, acknowledges with enthusiastic thanks the co-operation given the Aurorans by the Oshawa girls' band. Following those girls, evidently, the boys just couldn't go wrong.

Clinton, Dunnville and Port Colborne are among previous winners of the trophy, which must be won three times for permanent possession.

The return of the victorious brigade to Aurora was appropriately hailed with the sounding of the fire bell. The fire truck, looking very pleased, trundled up Yonge St. to the edge of the town to welcome the men who have brought home Aurora's most recent honors.

TOWN LEAGUE GAME IS SHOEMEN'S LOSS

The shoemakers' entry in the town league took it on the chin on Monday of last week when the heavy-hitting towners overwhelmed them by a 25-12 score. The game wasn't exactly a pitchers' jewel, as both the youthful Ken Harman, of the shoemen, and Bill Muford, of the towners, had difficulty holding down the hits, and the fielders got a good work-out.

The Holman stalwarts, Leonard and Albert, did their utmost to make it interesting by contributing two homers in the fourth inning on behalf of the shoemen, but the bases were empty when the circuit swats arrived.

WILSON'S CLOUT GIVES VICTORY TO FOUNDRY

The foundry lads batted out a close decision over the tanners on Wednesday of last week, in a town league fixture. The iron men won by a 7-4 decision and fans credit the victory to the new sweaters worn by the team. The teams were willing to exchange leadership several times during the game, but the foundry, down one run in the seventh inning, decided to take it, and broke the tannery infield wide open when Frank Cook and Wesley Ennis crossed the home plate for the deciding counters, helped considerably by a lusty double by George Wilson.

NEWLYWEDS HONORED BY ANGLICAN Y. P. S.

In honor of two of its members, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glass, the Anglican Y. P. S. held a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Glass, Wellington St., on Monday evening of last week. The couple, recently married, were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Following a delightful luncheon the group motored to Muscelman's lake to dance. Spot dance prizes went to Florence Banbury, Barbara Simpson, Clifford Chapman and Robert Benville.

Others in the party included Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, Misses Ruby Heard, Evelyn Heard, Mae Anderson, Eva Slaney and Messrs. Reg. Southwood, Reg. Glass, Murray MacLeod, John Thornton, Gordon Wilcox and Arthur Bunn.

REFUSES WORK, MAN TAKEN OFF RELIEF

"There are two men on relief who should be off," announced Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson at a recent meeting of council. "Both are able bodied and one of them will not accept work."

"Get them off relief at once," Councillor C. E. Sparks stated.

The two men were to be cut off relief at the end of the week, council decided.

TOWN LEAGUE BALL PLAY-OFFS ARRANGED

The tannery and foundry softball teams will play a best two-out-of-three schedule in the town league play-offs for the right to meet the group-leading town team in a three-out-of-five series for the Walter Evans trophy now held by the tannery.

Tannery and foundry will play on Thursday night of this week and on Monday night of next week, in the Aurora park.

SURGERY, LABORATORY WILL BE OPENED IN AURORA NEXT MONTH

Medical services available in Aurora will be added to next month by the establishment of a clinic. The Era learned this week. The clinic will be housed in a one-storey, white stucco annex to the residence of Dr. C. R. Boulding, Aurora's medical officer of health.

It will contain a surgery and general laboratory in which blood examinations and x-ray examinations may be made. There will be one bed for overnight treatment of accidents, tonsil operations, etc., The Era understands.

Dr. Boulding will have with him in the clinic a nurse-technician as assistant.

KINDNESS TURNS TO COOLNESS WHEN CAT REVEALED AS SKUNK

Kindness to animals does not always pay, Mr. and Mrs. William MacGirr, Mosley St., found last week.

Enjoying the evening on their verandah, they welcomed the intrusion of what they believed to be a neighbor's pet "Tabby." But it wasn't the neighbor's and it wasn't "Tabby."

Twisting nostrils revealed that it was just plain skunk. So the MacGirrs took back their greeting of "nice kitty," and sat tight, imprisoned on their own doorstep, scarcely daring to breathe.

At length the unwelcome visitor, sensing a slight coolness in its welcome, turned and sought new fields, or verandahs, to conquer.

CATHARINE KANE IS WED ON SATURDAY

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Aurora, on Saturday evening, when Rev. Kenneth McCreary officiated at the marriage of Catherine Mary Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kane, of Toronto, to James Closs, Jr., second son of Mr. and Mrs. James Closs, Sr., of Aurora.

The church had been tastefully decorated by Mr. and Mrs. J. McGhee with an abundance of phlox, gladioli and ferns. The bride, gowned in white lace, with veil crowned by a wreath of orange blossoms, and carrying a sheaf of white gladioli and asters, with maidenhair fern, entered the church to the strains of the wedding music played by Miss Marjorie Andrews. Mr. Bernard Kane gave his sister in marriage.

The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Sweeney, as maid of honor, wearing a pink gown with blue accessories, and her sister, Miss Elinor Kane, as bridesmaid, in blue with pink accessories. Each carried a nosegay of sweet peas and gypsophelia.

Joseph McGhee, Jr., was his uncle's groomsmen. The ushers were Mr. Frank Kane and Mr. John McGhee.

Following the ceremony, a reception for some 60 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Closs, Mosley St. Mrs. Closs in a blue sheer gown and Mrs. Kane in a frock of yellow floral crepe received with the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Closs left for the Georgian Bay district for a honeymoon.

STUNG BY BEE

Suffering severely from a bee sting received while visiting with her husband in Gormley, Mrs. Asa Cook was brought last Thursday to Dr. G. W. Williams for attention.

ATTEND BANQUET

Dr. G. W. Williams and Lorne C. Lee were among local Liberal stalwarts to attend the dinner in honor of Prime Minister Mackenzie King in Toronto this week.

ABOUT TOWN

C. N. R. LIBERAL RIDING

We had a pleasant holiday, thank you, but it is seldom that we take a trip to our little gay home in the west and come home unscathed. Something always happens.

This trip was no exception. We tumbled off the train in Aurora Tuesday morning and slunk home to lick the scars occasioned by a 36-hour association with a group of western Liberal members, bound for their dinner date with Prime Minister Mackenzie King in Toronto.

"We'll travel miles for a meal," a chap from Edmonton gleefully explained.

LIBERAL TALKERS

Just in case you may be interested in what a dozen prairie Liberals talk about when they are on their way to dinner in Toronto, we'll try to pass some of it along. It was interesting to us, and as the dozen Liberals knew there were at least two with them who were outside the party, we don't think we are betraying any confidences.

First, it was decided that the three prairie provinces would return approximately the same number of Liberal members as in the previous election. In Manitoba and in Saskatchewan they anticipated the loss of a number of seats, but in Alberta . . . and there was a gleeful rubbing of hands at the thought of what would happen to Premier Aberhart.

Mr. Aberhart is going on a sleighing party, Alberta's Liberals believe, and the Alberta Liberals are going to take care of the sleighing, personally.

Mr. Aberhart, the Alberta Liberals admitted, had done a good job for Alberta, but they considered that was a pretty slim excuse for Aberhart remaining in office. Mr. Aberhart had requested a lot of debts, but the Liberals did not seem to hold that against him. What farmer worries about the handholders, anyway, they intimated.

Mr. Aberhart has also consolidated 8,000 school districts into 40 school districts, and greatly increased the quality of rural education, the Liberals gladly admitted. They contended, however, that while this was good for education and for Alberta, it was very bad for Mr. Aberhart. It had increased taxes in many districts.

"The farmer is not interested in educating his children, but he is interested in taxes," the Edmonton chappie maintained, and his view was generally accepted.

Mr. Aberhart had also taken much of the excess profits from the business of supplying government needs, the Edmonton lad stated. He had, for example, ordered ink in bulk by the carload, and had transferred it into bottles found by the roadside, and given it to government departments, instead of more attractively bottled and more expensive brands. He had carried this economy practising throughout the government, but it would not do him much good, said the voice from Edmonton.

With the exception of the paper which got the bulk of the government printing, the press was against Aberhart, continued Mr. Edmonton. We suppose Aberhart's previous attempts to control press comment on government activity had something to do with it. . . . We know how we would feel about that.

Mr. Aberhart has another praiseworthy idea, the man from Edmonton thought—he is putting the government into the farm equipment business. If a farmer breaks a gear on his tractor, the government will sell him a replacement. The dealers' profits will be the farmers' savings. The Edmonton Liberal did not know who would make the parts for the government, but he earnestly expressed his hope, that for party purposes, the parts fell apart. So to speak.

AXING ABERHART

Paradoxically, the probable reason for Aberhart's defeat (if he is ever defeated) is that no party is big enough, or strong enough, to beat him.

So all parties are uniting to put Aberhart on the toboggan. In each constituency, the strongest party—outside of Aberhart's—calls the convention. An independent candidate is nominated, and he, and only he, will run in opposition to Aberhart. Aberhart's opposition is so strong that it has broken down party lines—on the surface, at least—and the opposition is taking no chances on splitting the vote in a three or four-cornered contest.

THE NIGGER

However, we learned that while the opposition to Aberhart may be independent in name, it is apt to be Liberal in fact. In most constituencies, the Liberals are the strongest and best organized of the parties out of power, and it would be strange indeed if the "independent" candidate elected did not behave liberally. And stranger still if the leader of the elected "independents" did not bear the stamp of

Trade Board Head Returns From 7,000-Mile Journey

A. N. FISHER FINDS FARMERS IN WEST ARE OPTIMISTIC

With only two punctures on the "trouble" side of the ledger, A. N. Fisher, president of Aurora's board of trade, has returned from a 7,000-mile motor tour which took him, in company with his sons, Clarence and Douglas, as far west as Lake Louise in the Rocky Mountains.

"St. Ignace—that's where we met Dr. J. S. Glen—Banff and Lake Louise were the grandest part of the trip," Mr. Fisher declared. Dr. Glen was formerly an Aurora minister.

Lake Louise was of special interest to Clarence, who counted 25 different license plates in a distance of a few hundred feet, some from as far away as Panama and Hawaii.

For a week the Aurorans visited in Major, Sask., where they once lived. Mr. Fisher found the people very optimistic over prospects. There were fewer grasshoppers than for many years, and northern Alberta and Saskatchewan looked very promising, though part of the southern district was burnt up with the

Chapman, Foster Lead In Cycling Club Competition

COUSINS' TRACK IS SCENE OF LOCAL CYCLING TOURNAMENT

Cycling, considered by many as a strenuous mode of obtaining pleasure, transportation and even exercise, is considered as one of the main sporting attractions in Aurora.

With a bike club boasting a membership of over 20 riders, it's a rare occasion in the evening when a half dozen speedsters or so in shorts can't be seen, whizzing briskly up and down the local streets.

Each week the club holds a twilight meet at Cousins' half-mile race track and between them they hold a series of events, competing for points. When tallied at the end of the season the winning point getter is to receive a large silver trophy and a barrel of sumptuous apples.

The results of last Thursday were as follows: quarter mile, juniors, time, 38 sec., Frank Bailey, Newmarket, Norm. Foster, Aurora, Tom Raeside, Aurora, D. Mathewson, Newmarket, Bob Watson, Aurora.

Quarter mile, senior, time, 34 sec., Mickey Smith, Newmarket, Harold Foster, Aurora, Art Bunn, Aurora, Cliff Chapman, Aurora. Half-mile, junior, time, 1.25 min., Norm. Foster, Bob Watson, Frank Bailey, Tom Raeside, D. Mathewson.

Half-mile, senior, time, 1.18-1.5, Mickey Smith, Harold Foster, Art Bunn, Cliff Chapman.

One-mile, junior, time, 2.54 min., Frank Bailey, Norm. Foster, Tom Raeside, Bob Watson, D. Mathewson.

One mile, senior, time, 2.46 2-5.

Liberal approval. But of course nothing must be said of that until the "independents" were elected.

THE ANGELS

If our comment in any way discredits Liberalism, we would be sorry. For the chaps we met were fine fellows. They gave every evidence of intelligence. The chap from Edmonton was asked to tell the story of Alberta and did it well. So we listened mostly to him.

We are glad to mention that this same chap sponsored a subscription on the train, and collected $30 from his Liberal colleagues, to be presented to a German mother in the day coach. The German mother, en route to visit her father, in Germany, spent the greater part of the trip watching her three-year-old daughter die.

The chap from Edmonton went quietly about the business of obtaining medical attention, and when that attention was no longer of value, did what he could to arrange for burial at Montreal.

He was a fine chap, as we have said, with a good brain and a good heart. We'd like to tell you his name, but we don't think he would want us to. Even niggers in the wood pile are capable of sprouting wings.

PLATFORM (?)

Perhaps it would be unfair (though to whom, we don't know) to end this column without some mention of the conversation concerning the possible Liberal platform. All in the smoking car expressed confidence in the ability of Prime Minister King to pull a fine, healthy platform out of his hat when the time came.

BOWLERS WIN IN TOTTENHAM MEET

George Sisman and Harry Teasdale maintained the reputation of the Aurora bowling club on Monday when they journeyed to Tottenham and obtained high for three wins in a tournament there.

heat, Mr. Fisher said.

"That's characteristic of the west," he stated. "So much can happen in a short time, even though it does look the best now that it has for ten years."

"Travelling is a great experience," said Mr. Fisher. "It's an opportunity to mingle with others and to get the different thoughts of various sections. It's an education in itself."

Visiting a brother in Edmonton, friends and relatives elsewhere, sightseeing in the mountains and in the buttes of North Dakota, took up more of their time.

They were fortunate enough to see Miss Helen Keller go through the ceremony of being adopted by an Indian tribe. Miss Keller, though blind, was able to "feel" with her hands the colors the Indians were wearing.

POPULAR BRIDE-TO-BE IS GIVEN SHOWER

Miss Catharine Kane was the guest of honor at a shower and dance held on Wednesday evening, July 26, at the home of Mrs. Joseph McGhee, Yonge St. About 50 friends and relatives gathered to "shower" the bride-to-be with beautiful gifts which were arranged under a pink and white umbrella.

CLIFF CHAPMAN, MICKEY SMITH, HAROLD FOSTER, ART BUNN

Two-mile lap race, inclusive of juniors and seniors: Cliff Chapman, Norm. Foster, Tom Raeside, Harold Foster, Frank Bailey, D. Mathewson.

NINE MILE PURSUIT, TEAM RACE, TIME: 26:18 2-5, CLIFF CHAPMAN AND ART BUNN; FRANK BAILEY AND NORM. FOSTER, TOM RAESIDE AND HAROLD FOSTER.

Cliff Chapman, Aurora, 98 points; Norm. Foster, Aurora, 80 points; Frank Bailey, Newmarket, 63 points; Harold Foster, Aurora, 53 points; Mickey Smith, Newmarket, 48 points; Roy Sanderson, Newmarket, 31 points; Tom Raeside, Aurora, 25 points; Dave Judd, Aurora, 20 points; Art Bunn, Aurora, 15 points; Bob Watson, Aurora, 12 points; Jim Murray, Aurora, 11 points; Bert MacGirr, 9 points; Sandy Edwards, Aurora, 5 points; D. Mathewson, Newmarket, 5 points; Bob Benville, Aurora, 4 points; Doug. Mackenzie, Aurora, 1 point; Chuck Gates, King City, 1 point.

Note: Riders with low percentages are either newcomers or have ridden in very few races.

One gentleman, a provincial organizer, thought that the platform would be inspired by the recent visit of their majesties to Canada. Voters should be asked to mark their ballots for "King, King and Queen, and unity," he thought.

We ventured the comment that the Conservatives might be talking on much the same lines. We had always thought them the flag-wavingest party.

"We've stolen the flag from the Conservatives and have wrapped it round ourselves," the man from Edmonton declared. The Conservatives, thus denuded, would have difficulty in facing the people, he intimated.

Nobody mentioned unemployment.

COMMENT

Thinking it all over, we came to the conclusion that while we had heard intelligent discussion of the future of the Liberal party, we heard little of the future of Canada. Perhaps the Liberals' future and Canada's future are the same thing. Perhaps. We mentioned our thoughts to a gray-mountained Scotchman in the corner of the smoking car. He has farmed in Manitoba for over 40 years.

"A statesman plans for the generation to come," he stated. "A politician plans for the next election."

Aurorans Pull 5-2 Surprise Victory

HOME-TOWNERS HAVE LOST AND WON AGAINST EVERY TEAM

PLAYOFFS NEXT WEEK

Last night's victory over Newmarket sends the Aurorans into the Simcoe league softball playoffs, in company with Sutton, Newmarket and Richmond Hill.

Aurora will be playing off with Sutton, while Richmond Hill and Newmarket fight it out in their half of the semi-finals.

Aurora plays its home playoff game in the Aurora park on Tuesday night, going to Sutton on Thursday of next week.

What are Aurora's chances? Nobody knows. Losing their first-string pitcher, early in the season, the fans counted them out. Then Bill Bone stepped into the box. Without being spectacular, Bone has the happy faculty of throwing balls in a way that the batters don't like, and the results have been all to the good.

As a team in the field, the Aurorans have improved. A little new blood, recently injected, has served to add to both their fielding and hitting strength.

Their record means little—they have been beaten by everyone in the group. But also—they have beaten every team in the group. It all adds up to this, that anything can happen in a ball game, and the Aurorans have shown their ability to come through.

They have a chance at the title—or they have a chance to be eliminated next week. The fans will be there to see which it is.

At a league meeting held following last night's game, an O.K. was given to the new players attached to the Aurora squad, George Pattenden and Frank Michaniuk. In giving its approval in this generous fashion, the executive took into consideration the change of managers in the Aurora club.

King City, last place team in the southern group of the Simcoe league, are now classed as a "B" team and will play off with Midhurst, winner of another section.

JUNIOR BAND PLANS FOR STREET DANCE AND BAND CARNIVAL

A "monster" street dance, combined with a band carnival, is being planned by members and supporters of the Aurora Boys' band, The Era learned from P. M. Thompson this week.

The date has been set for Thursday, Aug. 24, and one of the best known dance orchestras has been hired for the occasion. In addition to this, there will be four bands in attendance to add more music and color to the affair.

A presentation of medals will also be made at the carnival.

Liberal prizes for lucky ticket-holders have already created a demand for tickets, it is stated, and many of the bands' well-wishers are taking this opportunity to offer their support of the young musicians.

Mrs. Coburn of Tottenham is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Proctor.

Mrs. Fizzell is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jarvis.

The Y. P. U. met last Wednesday evening with a fair attendance. The vice-president, Everett Paton, was in charge, assisted by the Christian Fellowship convener, Miss Elsie Houghton.

The Y. P. U. choir rendered a selection entitled "My Heart is singing all day long." The scripture lesson, taken from King 1, 18, verses 30 to 39, was read by Miss Betty Burt-Gerrans. Miss E. Houghton gave a reading, "Elijah's Courage," and a poem, "Fellowship."

The meeting closed with the benediction.

A very pleasant evening was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Burt-Gerrans for the young people. Several games were played, including euchre, with dancing afterwards. George and Jack Stone played their accordions, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. H. Stone, at the piano. Many old and new songs were played and sung. Mrs. Burt-Gerrans, also Howard Paton played the piano for dancing.

Refreshments were served. Dancing concluded a pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone and Messrs. George and Jack Stone spent Friday in Toronto.

Mrs. Funnell, Sr., of Toronto, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Funnell.

Mrs. A. L. Warrington and son, Jack, of Detroit, and Mrs. Creighton Kaufman of Hamilton were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Westlake and daughter, Miss Pearl Westlake, visited Mr. Westlake's brother, who is ill in Toronto, on Sunday.

Last Saturday evening a large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Atkinson (nee Miss Norine Magee), a former school teacher of S. S. 13, Pottageville school.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson were showered with many beautiful gifts, large and small. Miss Hattie Cutting read an address on behalf of their many friends.

The bride and groom thanked everyone and all were invited to come and see them in the near future.

The evening was spent in dancing, with music by Messrs. George and Jack Stone and father, Mr. Harold Stone, Graydon Atkinson and Art Westlake. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Miss Verna Houghton from Schomberg spent the weekend with her parents.

Mrs. Hilliard of Toronto spent the weekend at her summer cottage.

EVERSLEY MRS. PETER BOVAIR DIES IN 83RD YEAR

Rev. M. E. Burch is on his vacation. There will be no church service till Sunday evening, Aug. 27, in Eversley church. Sunday-school will continue as usual.

Miss Nancy Ball visited at Dr. Lockhart's for a few weeks. This little lady had a happy time with other girls of King City.

Mrs. Hugh Ferguson of Aurora is visiting at her sister-in-law's, Mrs. Gellatly's.

Eversley community picnic was held at Lake Wilcox on Thursday afternoon, July 27. Nearly 100 people attended and it was considered one of the best ever.

On Tuesday evening, Aug. 1, an ice cream social was held on the church grounds under the auspices of the Eversley Young People, with Mrs. James Wells in charge. There was a fair attendance and a good program was given by local talent. Rev. Mr. Burch was chairman.

The W. A. held a sewing meeting at Mrs. James Ball's on Wednesday.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson of Toronto called at "Scots Wha Hae," on their way to their island summer home in Black Lake, Haliburton. While they were still here, Prof. W. S. Ferguson and his son, Gordon R. Ferguson, C. A., and Rev. Dr. R. G. Scott, medical missionary at Wakaw hospital, Sask., arrived and were well met.

In the passing of Mrs. Peter Bovair, of Aurora, Eversley has lost one of its oldest and best known citizens. Mrs. Bovair passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Duncan McDonald, Aurora, on Sunday morning, aged 82 years.

Mrs. Bovair had been in failing health for some years, and at the time of her husband's death was confined to her bed, and since then has gradually weakened, till the spent body was worn away.

She was a twin of the late Thomas Scott of Toronto, and one of the family of the late Thomas Scott, a pioneer blacksmith who came from Scotland and settled here at "Scots Wha Hae." It was here that Mrs. Bovair-Eliza Scott—was born 82 years ago. The funeral was held on Tuesday. Interment in King City cemetery.

ROCHE'S POINT
CHRIST CHURCH LADIES
PLEASED WITH BAZAAR

Success crowned the efforts of the ladies of the W. A. of Christ Church, who held their annual bazaar, in the Parish hall, on Saturday afternoon, July 24th.

The hall was very appropriately arranged and decorated for the occasion, and as in former years, there was a varied display of useful articles, fancy work, novelties and home-made baking and candy.
The net results of the bazaar were most gratifying.

The following ladies were in charge of the booths, Mrs. J. Bad-land, home-made cooking and candy table; Mrs. W. Fenning, novelty table; Mrs. W. Brown and Mrs. W. Lawton, knitted articles and linens; Mrs. E. Bunn, fancy-work and towels. Miss Elsie Bad-land and Mrs. A. J. Forte had charge of the tea tables.

A number of the girl guides took care of the ice cream and soft drinks. Mrs. J. Badland, president of the W. A., is to be congratulated for having directed another very successful event.

An old English fair is being planned by the Girl Guide Company and the Brownie Pack, to be held on Friday, Aug. 18. The program will be held in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. MacKinnon.
A very happy and lively time is anticipated.

day last week.

Mrs. Holmes of Toronto is spend-
Mrs. Frank Curi.

Vivian

The recent rain has been a wonderful help to the later crops, although it came too late for the earlier grains and fruits. The very hot, dry weather brought a great many more people from Toronto and other centres.

Mrs. Needler entertained Mrs.
Rowan and family from Toronto.

Mrs. Phoenix' sister and family are visiting her.

Mr. McCormack has a full house, and Mr. Shackman has his house and cabins all filled.

The church at Vivian was well attended on Sunday night. The speaker was Mr. Clifford, a missionary from Africa. Mr. Clifford spoke on "the similarity between the conduct and customs of the African people, and those of many of our own people."

Mr. Clifford advised Christians to keep in tune and in step with God. His address was very much appreciated. He intends going to South America as a missionary in the near future.

The Era office is open on Saturday afternoons from 2 to 5 and on Saturday evenings from 5 to 10, D. S. T.

KING CITY HOLD CHURCH PICNIC AT KING CITY AUG. 17

Final arrangements were made for the annual picnic to be held at the Camp Ahshunyoong site on Thursday, Aug. 17.

The main features of the day will be swimming, organized sports, picnic supper, ball game, campfire, sing-song, worship service and corn roast. The picnic committee is Misses Vera Hunter, Vera Clarke, Marion Burkholder and Messrs. Murray Huntley, Fred Dew and Marvin Hunter.

The Young People's presbytery softball schedule is completed. Sharon and Laskay played last night at Temperanceville. This game was a play-off for fourth place in the league. The other three teams are:

King City	Won	Lost
Temperanceville	5	0
Wesley	5	1

King City will play Wesley tonight, it is expected, but the place is still indefinite.

There will be a final game held the week of Aug. 20, followed by a social evening. This will be a presbytery event.

The boys' games came to an end on Tuesday. On Friday evening the local team played Richmond Hill and lost 11-2. Followers hope the team have better luck next time.

The King Y. P. U. are holding

PEPPER AND SALT

"BY PEP"

The rank commercialism of our day establishes box-office as the prime criterion of the success of any sports venture. While horse-racing, for example, was originated as a means of improving the breed of the thoroughbreds, it is now strictly an enjoyable way of winning or losing filthy lucre.

Therefore, financially speaking, the harness meet last Monday was not a success. The front office took missed the pay expenses mark by an unhealthy margin. However, this should not be taken as an indication that Newmarket cannot or will not support two-wheeled racing.

The real core of the difficulty is in the set-up itself. A uniform and top-heavy stipend, slow take-offs in the races, and vacation trouble were the real culprits. Still this game of racing is as vacillating as a piston and has to be handled with kid gloves.

A few weeks past this corner reported the serious sickness of Joe Tunney. At that time Joe had survived the crisis. He is now completely recovered and is back on his old office beat.

The Newmarket ladies' softball squad is attracting the interest and support of an increasing number of fans. They deserve every bit of it. They play a snappy brand of softball even though often on the losing end. Next year, the adoption of uniforms should make girls' softball more attractive than ever.

Softball Games Please Fans In Mount Albert

In a game that provided none of the wild splurges that have usually characterized the Red-men's play this season, the Indians defeated Mount Albert, leaders of the Simcoe League, five to four in Monday's sports day exhibition. They were hard pressed in eking out a win. However only a few of the players were on hand or in their regular position.

At the outset, Mount Albert dominated the play and showed that they knew what it was all about. The locals were hazy about their signals and at times three men went after pop flies and, as usually happens, three men missed the pop flies. However, they really opened up when the heat was on and stoked up enough energy to outdistance the Mount Albert machine by one run.

Chuck VanZant was the best man on the field, playing and talking his usual swellegant game. Stewart was the powerhouse for the Albertans.

Keswick, and attended Newmarket high school. Mr. Morton was a graduate of the University of Toronto and Osgoode Hall.

Surviving are his widow, Mary Tyndall Morton, one daughter, Mary, and one brother, A. R. Morton, all of Toronto.

Interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto.

MAYOR CLASHES

The premises public on June 20. "On July 24, at 9.20 D.S.T., accompanied by Constables J. Sloss and R. Forsythe I went to Holly's premises with a search warrant," testified Constable R. Watt. "We tried for half an hour to gain access to the house and finally we had to force in two doors to gain entrance to the house. I asked Holly if he had any liquor or beer on the premises and he answered no. Holly stated the only liquor he had was two jugs of figs in rum which he had been taking for a number of years for a stomach ailment. Holly said he had no objection if we searched the house so I went down cellar and the other constables stayed upstairs. There was a cupboard in the south-west corner of the cellar tight against the wall, and when I pulled out the cupboard, I found a hole in the wall and there were 12 quarts of beer in it. I immediately called Constable Sloss downstairs. The beer was not in a case.

"When I asked Holly about the beer he said he had the beer on a prescription for stomach trouble given him by Dr. Boyd," continued Constable Watt. "He showed me the prescription and it stated that Holly had permission to have 12 quarts of beer a week."

Constable Sloss corroborated the evidence given by Constable Watt.

Dr. Boyd when called as a defence witness stated that he had been the Holly's family doctor for 20 years.

"Didn't you know that it was wrong for Holly to have beer on his premises when they had been declared public?"

"I thought it was all right when I prescribed it."

"Cannot you prescribe some medicine for Holly without him having the beer?"

"Holly does better with the beer but I guess I'll have to prescribe medicine if he cannot have beer."

by representative weekly editors across Canada. A visit to the Whirlpool Rapids will be preceded by afternoon tea for the ladies of the party by courtesy of the Shredded Wheat plant.

The association's much anticipated event—the trophy dinner—will be held Friday evening, when winners of the various competitions will be presented with their trophies and prizes. A dance on Rainbow Balcony, as guests of the hotel management, will end the Friday sessions.

A general forum on Simplified Cost Systems for Weeklies, led by Wm. Henn, of the Waterloo Chronicle, will be featured Saturday morning, and other routine business will be conducted. At noon, members will gather for luncheon as guests of Vernon Knowles, with Wm. J. Stewart, C.B.E., ex-mayor of Toronto, as guest speaker. A trip to the old Fort at Port Erie via bus will be made by the entire party on Saturday afternoon, and remaining over for the New York trip will end the day with a supper dance at the convention hotel.

A group of over 100 will leave Sunday morning via the New York Central railroad, for New York City, to enjoy two full days and three nights at the fair. Hosts out. Then the inspector took me by the arm. So I just boxed his ear."

"A British subject's home should be his castle. The average citizen doesn't know whether these fellows are representatives of the law or are potential robbers giving a place the once-over."

Dr. Edwards particularly objects to the time allotted to patent medicine broadcasts.

"Why, right after that last royal program, the first thing that came over the air was a patent medicine advertisement."

"The Doctor is going to have no more radio trouble. Before the gaze of the annoyed inspector, he smashed all the tubes in his set. 'I've always bought a license in the past, but I would sooner go to jail than buy one now!'" was his parting shot.

R.S.A. TEAM TRIMS SPECIALTY 12-10

Behind the steady pitching of Jerry Blight the R.S.A. softball squad blasted its way to a 12 to 10 victory over the Office Specialty in the first game of their playoff series Tuesday. The O.S. team lost an early lead through loose pitching and defence after they seemed assured of grabbing the stakes.

Up to the fourth stanza the office array steadily piled up an imposing lead and then hit hot water. Johnny Vandenburg was wild in the fourth and after reckoning was made, the Buglers were riding high on a 11 to seven lead. Ben Wilson relieved Vandenburg in the fifth and yielded only one run in his term of office. A desperate O.S. rally in the first of the seventh was efficiently stymied at one run.

Bligh hurled a cool, measured game and garnered his share of hits. The front-door and left field positions were well covered too. Tom Drury and Bill VanZant covered the O.S. outfield with finesse. This victory gives R.S.A. the lead in their series.

SIR WILLIAM MULOCK IS BETTER TODAY

The condition of Sir William Mulock, Canada's "Grand Old Man" is considerably improved. Sir William was up today according to word received from his home at Armitage. The hot weather has been a little too much for the 65-year-old former chief justice of the supreme court. His physicians ordered a complete rest for several days.

BALL TEAM BEATS AURORA

The newly erected baseball stands got their inaugural sitting last Thursday as the Red Indians emerged victorious by a thirteenth to four count over a badly-coached Aurora squad. The boys from the south bend were shooting for peanuts and didn't let errors or faintly muffled disparaging remarks get under their skin.

Newmarket snaffled three runs in the first, four in the third, two in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth while Aurora replied with two in the third and two in the seventh. Three blows strayed from the straight and narrow and the casualty list was impressive but not serious. All that Aurora got out of this fracas was experience, for they didn't measure up to their play in the last encounter with the locals.

Niles did a fair chore on the mound and batted a thousand per cent. Gibney poled out his quota of drives and handled his position with ease. Bone, on the mound for Aurora, tried hard but poor backing spelled his nemesis.
